

THE BENEFITS OF A HOME INVENTORY

Every New York City homeowner and renter should have a home inventory.

This simple property list is invaluable when planning a move, starting renovations, renting out your home or overseeing a family estate.

A home inventory is indispensable when buying homeowners insurance because it helps you calculate the value of your belongings to purchase the correct amount of insurance coverage.

But a home inventory is essential when you face a loss and need to replace your personal property. It's your proof and evidence of ownership. It can expedite the claims process, help insurance adjusters determine the retail replacement value of your property and help maximize reimbursement.

Plan ahead. Don't underestimate what could happen to you and your family.
